Tuesday September 5th and Wednesday September 6th (until 4pm): Palais des Congrès in Paris, Metro station Porte Maillot (line 1 Vincennes-La Defense):

The scientific program will include plenary and parallel workshop sessions, with several invited speakers and oral presentations selected from submitted abstracts, and posters.

Thursday or Friday, a session inside the ECI 2006 program will focus on Large animal models in immunological research.

General informations

Venues: Registration, opening lectures and get-together cocktail will take place on Monday September 4th in Maisons-Alfort (see Program for the details and the Metro map). The rest of the program will take place in Palais des Congrès, Porte Maillot in Paris.

Registration

It is intended that all immunologists participate at both the main congress and their satellite of interest. Accordingly, a special registration fee will include registration for both ECI 2006 and the 2nd EVIW.
